APOGEE '69

Dedication:

Brother
Daniel Redmond, C.S.C.

Brother Daniel chats with parents at Catholic High School Open House.

"How's everything going?", Brother asks a group of Mooney Freshmen.

The members of the Senior class have spent four years at Mooney—learning, growing, and sharing. There is another person who has also been here for four years, and he, too, has shared much with us. This person is Brother Daniel.

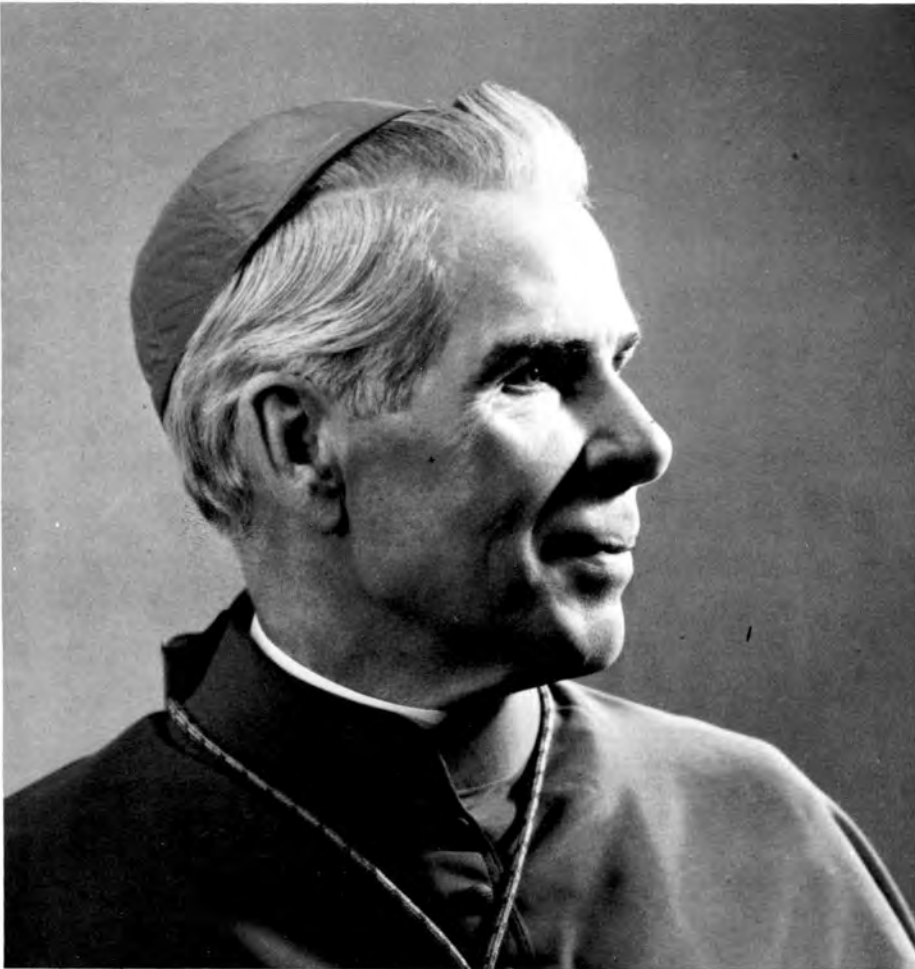

Many of an administrator's deeds pass unnoticed, and also, they are often unappreciated by the majority of students. We know that our principal has done much for Mooney which has been quiet, "grass roots" work: an attempt to make our school a more effective, educational center in the future years. And, although we have not grasped fully Brother's contributions, we have easily seen, on a personal basis, and in the scope of the whole Greece community, that Brother Daniel's facility to establish good public relations has been his trademark.

We, the class of 1969, are proud to have shared four years with Brother Daniel. And, what we offer him in thanks for the many known, and the even more unseen efforts of our principal, is this yearbook. Our hope is that Apogee '69 is representative of the school for which Brother Daniel has worked so well.

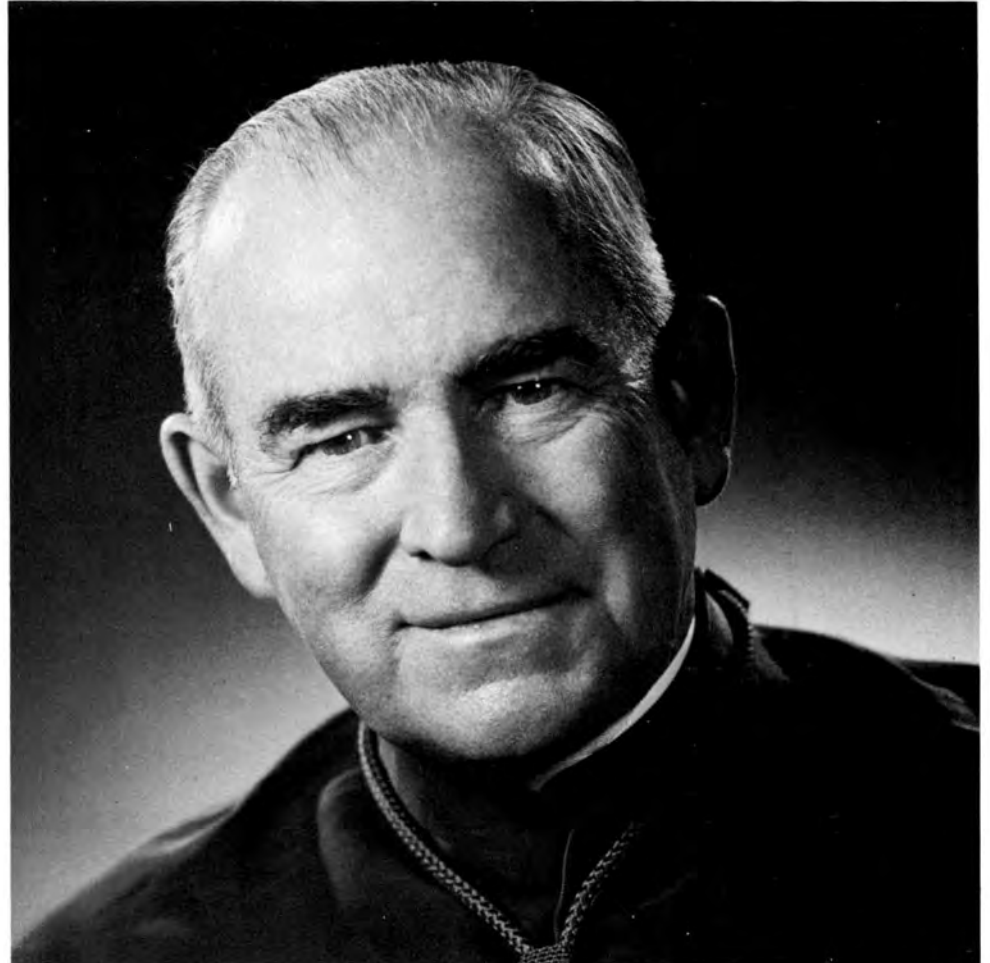

A familiar scene: Mike Ugino, Student Council President, confers with Brother Daniel on school issues.

ACADEMICS

Theology

Miss Kane's Theology I class interprets the Joyful Mysteries through a collage.

"Let's love one another right now" was the message sung by the school chorus during the Thanksgiving Mass. Chorus was under the direction of Brother Francis Bruno and Brother Joseph Lo-Cascio.

The Adult Theology classes, conducted by Mooney faculty members, closed with a Mass celebrated by Father Haycock.

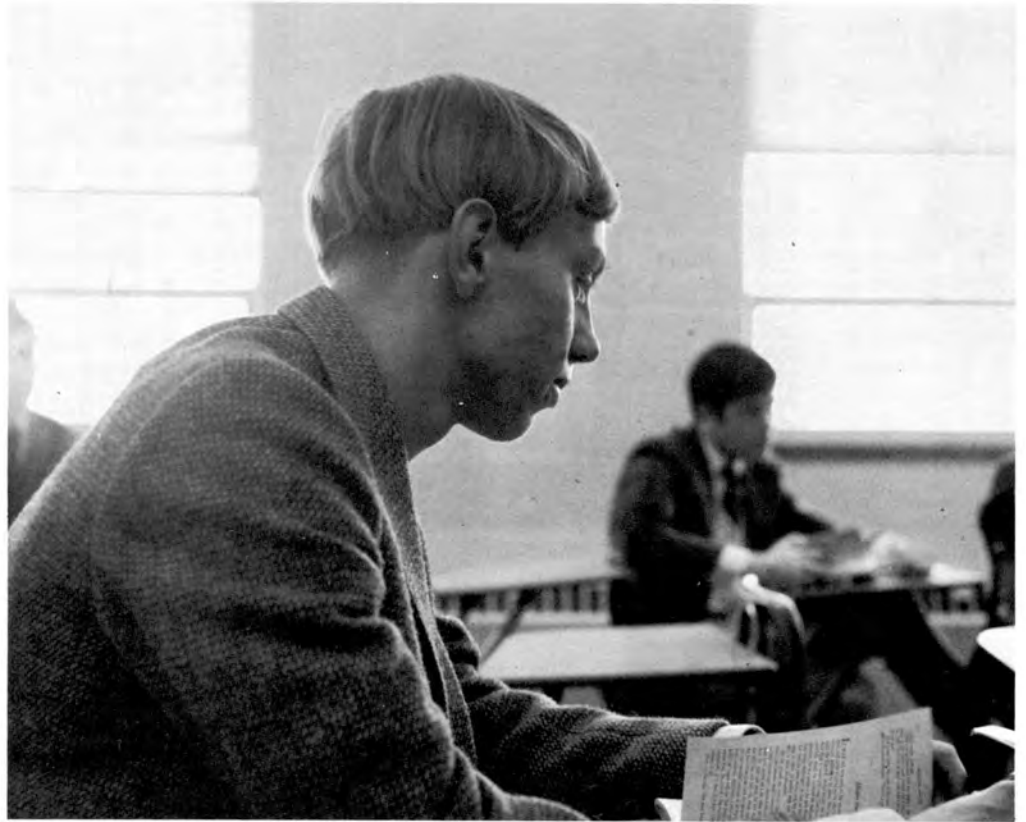

Brother Francis Bruno and students discuss a tape recording in Theology 3 class.

Father Reddington, one of eight pastors invited to concelebrate at the Thanksgiving Mass, distributes Holy Communion to students.

English

Below: Sister Mary Ruth puts her English 2 class to work by means of a lively discussion of the Reader's Digest.

Left: With all eyes intently upon him, Brother Joseph Lo Caşcio begins his English 2 class with a lecture on free verse. Right: Taking a look at the fun side of Public Speaking, we find Marilyn Nelson and Sharon Murray enacting an Excedrin Headache commercial.

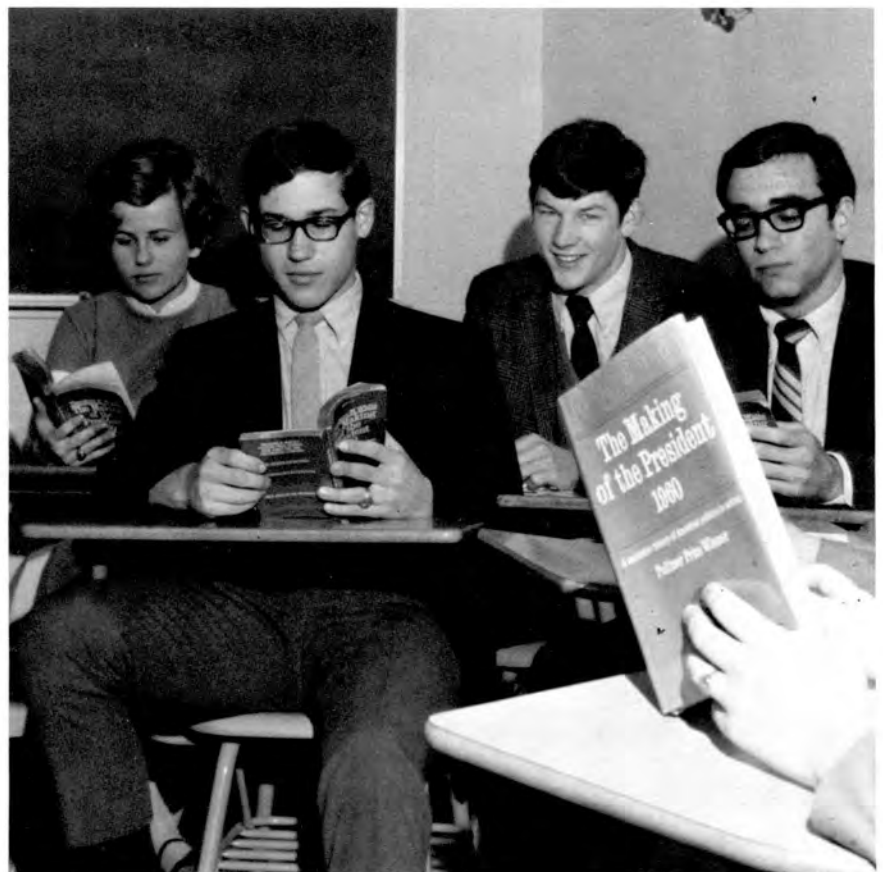

Medieval Mead Hall, Mooney style, is acted out by Sister Louise Marie's English 4 class.

Sister Johanna's co-ed American History class discusses pre-Civil War times.

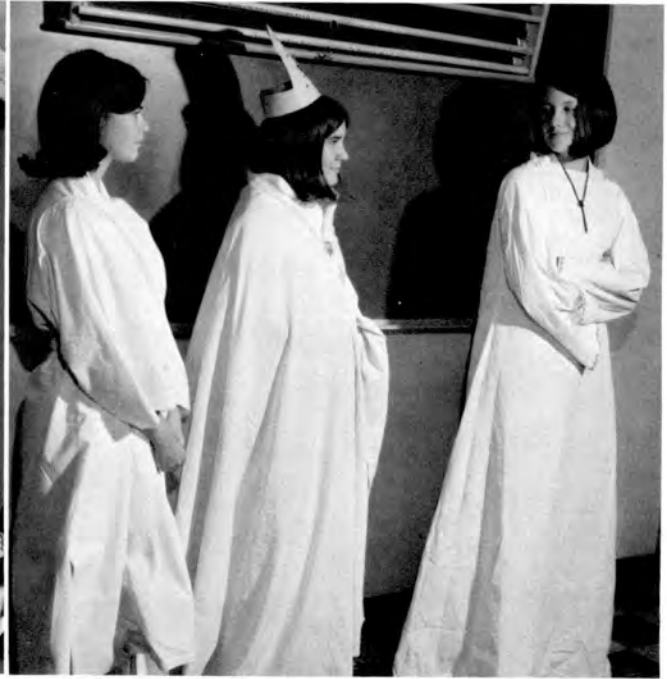

History

Political Science class studies the story of American leaders and their influence on the world.

Mr. Smith's Social Studies class listens as Bernie Wegman makes a point during College Bowl-type discussion.

Paula Rowan, Patti Love, and Linda Becker act out Erasmus' satire on Pope Julius II for their history classmates.

Varying amounts of interest are displayed by Brother John Davies' Great Issues class during the discussion on Russian iconography.

In French 4 class, Sister Marcia's students describe a Parisian scene.

Language

For a better understanding of Roman times, Mrs. Stevens' Latin 2 class made and modeled togas.

Typing hints from Mrs. Allen help Bart Noto.

Business

Diane Iati shows her completed paper to Cindy Maio and Diane Mannillo in Office Practice class.

The thermal expansion of solids is the theme of IPS experiment being performed by Bill Flynn and Gary Jenkins.

Science

Sister Edna's Physical Science class learns how to find a boiling point.

Janine Lysiak and Kathy Batchelor experiment with enzymes in Biology class.

Right, bottom: Kevin Flanigan's "all-wired-up" in an electrocardiograph experiment in Brother John Hudson's Biology class.

The concept of slope is thoroughly explained by Mrs. Mugavero in her Math 9 class.

Mathematics

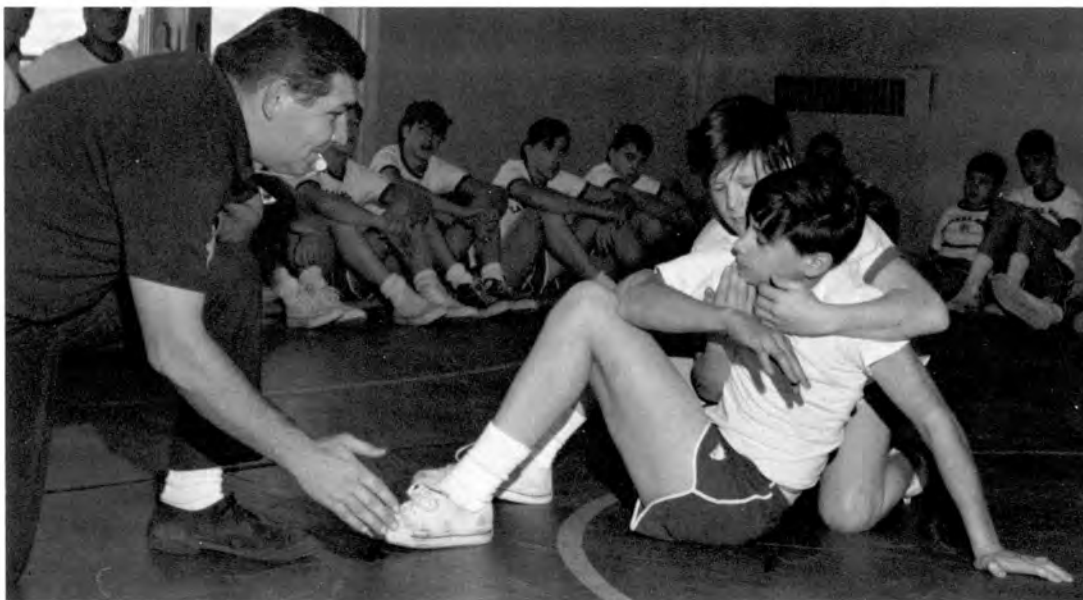

Below: Two of the many Mooney students eagerly awaiting their turn to answer in Math class.

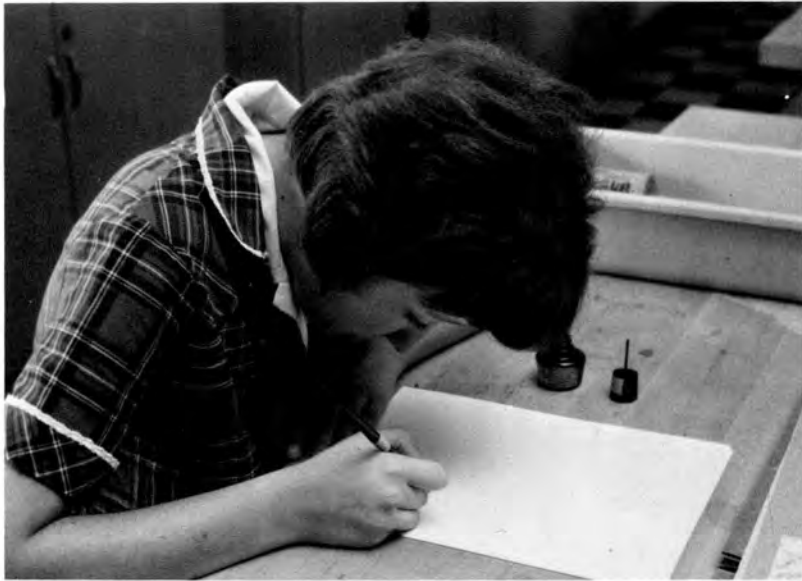

Sophomore girls "go all out" in the competition of a soccer match.

Physical Education

Basic wrestling techniques are put into practice by this group of freshman boys, under the direction of Mr. Nietopski.

Art

One of the facets of Art 2 is making linoleum prints, as shown by Paula Beck.

Brother Charles points out line quality to interested student in Mechanical Drawing Class.

Gail Fox concentrates on perfecting her ceramics project.

Marilyn McCurn and Mary Ellen Zodarecky make cookies for the Faculty dinner, a Foods Department project.

Tots wait to tell Santa (Chris Sommer) what they want for Christmas during party held by Child Development class.

Home Economics

Tomorrow's seamstresses in Mrs. Angermeier's Clothing class take pride in their fashions.

Karen Tremaine is engrossed in "The Three Little Pigs" as she reads to the pre-school age set.

It looks like the real thing for Mike Ugino and Joanne DiMauro (moderately-priced wedding's bride). See below for explanation of project.

The Boyfriend

May 17, 18, 24, 25, 1968

Hours of rehearsal and hard work under the direction of Brother William Reiser produced not only a delightful musical full of warmth and humor, but gave our students a chance to express an amazing array of talent. It provided an opportunity for all classes to work together and to get to know one another. The tremendous spirit of the cast of "The Boyfriend," was matched only by the enthusiastic reception of the audience.

Varsity Basketball

Mooney gained state-wide fame during the 1969 Basketball season. With a record of 17-1, the cagers whipped through the season in a cool way, using the press, and paying close attention to the words of Coach Nietopski. No one will forget easily the team's one defeat—the game lost to East High by one painful point in a steaming hot RIT gym. But what's bound to be remembered even longer is the fact that Mooney's 1969 Basketball Team both in victory and defeat could be described with one word: CLASS.

You should see what she eats for breakfast.

And they told ME not to tell jokes like that.

All right who's out of step down there?

No, your right foot goes first and then your left foot.

After the team finishes its preliminary warm ups ...

Do you take checks? $1.25 is a lot to pay for a carton of milk and a straw.

Thanks a Lot!

We may not look grateful, but we sincerely appreciate all those who helped us publish APOGEE '69. These people include:

Brother Daniel, Sister Maureen, Brother Gerard, and all the faculty members who were patient with our many demands.

The student body, for their cooperation.

Karen Pellett, for the cover design.

Brother Richard O'Brien, for his undying loyalty to "the cause."

Mister Richard Ireland of the Taylor Publishing Company.

Mister Carl Tandoi of Varden Studios.

Mister Richard Prem of the GREECE POST, for sports pictures.

Sam and Larry Tandoi, for sports pictures.

Last but not least, Sister Doris, without whose help we couldn't have lost so many pictures, keys, typewriters, etc.
